Jim J's Jukebox Comes to Beverly Hills Public Library on July 15 American Songbook Expert Jim Jimirro Shares Insights, Anecdotes and Music from his Vast Collection

Beverly Hills, Calif. -- American Songbook expert and buff Jim Jimirro shares insights, behind-the-scene anecdotes and music from his vast collection at a special summer event at the Beverly Hills Public Library on July 15 at 7 p.m. in the Library Auditorium. Thousands around the world have enjoyed his vibrant and informed perspective on the music of Berlin, Porter, Kern and Gershwin, the lyrics of Mercer, Hart and Hammerstein, and the stylings of Sinatra and Fitzgerald.

Jim's presentations are packed with music and stories, but it is his passion that sets these lectures apart. His way of hearing this music in a special way – and bringing others along for the ride are what makes his presentations alive and popular.

Jim is not new to the Beverly Hills Public Library. "I have been doing music lectures at the Beverly Hills Public Library for almost 20 years, and even though I talk on this great music all over the world, the Library is my home base," said Jim Jimirro. "The audiences are wonderful and loyal, and the library staff is most supportive. It is a special pleasure to be doing this unique summer program in conjunction with the Library's Read to the Rhythm Program."

Jim is founding president of the Disney Channel and is currently Chairman of the Board of National Lampoon.

Free parking is available in Library Civic Center lot. The Beverly Hills Public Library is proud to offer free admission to the program on a first come, first served basis. For more information, visit:
